THANKSGIVING GROCERIES

GENERAL NEWS

The board of regents of the University of California has just concluded the purchase of the Bancroft library. The purchase price was $250,000, and of this amount H. H. Bancroft donated $100,000.

At Milwaukee, Charles Mader, of Chicago, pleaded guilty in the Municipal court to giving a bribe of $1500 for a contract for roofing an addition to the county hospital in 1901, and was fined $1000.

Up till 6 p. m. November 27, 34 men belonging to college football teams in the United States had been either killed outright or were suffering with fatal injuries sustained this fall. And Thanksgiving to hear from!

The dead body of J. W. Kelly, of Palo Alto, Cal., was found in his carriage which the horse was drawing suddenly along a road. Kelly had been murdered by having his forehead crushed in with a single heavy blow.

The Keystone Powder company's mixing house and one packing house blew up at Emporium, Pa., killing nine persons. The town was badly shaken, but there was no damage to town property. The Keystone Works were completely destroyed.

Miss Ethel Bret Harte, daughter of the famous writer of early California life, will devote herself to concert work, because her father's estate at his death was too small to support his family. The total value of Harte's estate at his death amounted to $1800.

The lid is on—Sundays—at Indianapolis, Ind., all gambling and selling of liquor on that day being effectually stopped. In other parts of the state the enforcement of the Sunday closing law is being made very general, though seldom so effective as in the capital city.

PEOPLE OF MALHEUR
MAD ABOUT IRRIGATION.

Feel That They Have Not Been Treated Fairly by the Reclamation Service—Magnificent Tract of Desert Land Can Be Irrigated at Comparatively Light Expense and the People Are Aroused for Government Work.

The people of this county feel that Secretary Hitchcock has not been correctly informed regarding the Malheur irrigation project and that the inland empire, of which Malheur forms an important part is unfairly dealt with, says a dispatch from Ontario to the Oregon Daily Journal.

The project as planned proposed to reclaim about 100,000 acres of land. Of this the government is supposed to own about 15,000 acres, and the road company about 25,000 acres and patented land owners the balance.

Whistler first reported that it would cost less than $30 an acre to irrigate this district and he asked that the people sign up at that figure. The people got together and signed up their holdings as was asked by the government agent. Later the government sent in another set of surveys and then reported that it would cost $42 an acre to irrigate the territory. The citizens then got together and they signed at the new figure.

The road company has been the sticking point to all outward appearances. It has agreed to close out its holdings within a certain period of time and if at the expiration of that time the same are not closed out then the government shall take the same over and close them out for it.

This project is one of the most feasible in the state and there seems to be no reason why it should not be completed. The territory is one large plain, with just enough fall to locate reservoirs and ditches with easy grades over the whole district. The main part of the project is fed by the Malheur river, but there is an addition of probably 40,000 to 60,000 acres of land which can be reached by Bully creek and Willow creek, and that project has an estimate of $24 an acre.

The Dalles military road grant covers probably one-third of that section and that land is for sale at the present time. The owners of this grant are anxious to have their land taken into the irrigation project and it is understood that they will comply with the government's requirements. That land is also surveyed by the government surveyors and there is no reason why, even if the government will not irrigate the bigger Malheur district, that it will not take up this lesser project and push it to a termination.

Son Lost Mother.

"Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes E. B. Held of Harmony, Mo. "For the past five years, however, or the slightest sign of a Cough or Cold I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Held, but he learned that lung trouble must not be neglected, and how to cure it. Quickest relief and cure for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1. Guaranteed at Tallman & Co., and Brock & McComas' drug stores. Trial bottle free.

Will Develop Grand Ronde Coal.

A deal was completed today between W. B. Holman of Grand Rapids, Minn., and J. M. Edwards and George W. Crocker, whereby the former becomes the owner of a one-fifth interest in the Grand Ronde coal fields. Mr. Holman states that it is the intention of the present owners to organize a company at once to develop the property. The capital of the company will be placed at $1,500,000. It is the intention of the promoters to build a narrow gauge line from the mines to Snake river, where barges will be used to convey the coal to Lewiston and Clarkston. Yards for the sale of the coal will be established in both cities. Mr. Holman had tests made of the coal in Duluth some time ago, which proved it to be superior to the bituminous variety in heating qualities. Mr. Holman is largely interested in the Idaho Reduction company and is also part owner of a smelter and townsite now being built on the shores of Lake Pend d'Oreille. It is expected to have the line built and the product of the mines upon the market by the middle of next summer. The development of these mines will undoubtedly prove of immense benefit to the cities of Lewiston, Clarkston and Asotin, as the coal can be laid down at these points at a very low figure. The lack of cheap fuel in this section has been one of the greatest handicaps, but with the placing of this coal upon the market this condition will be remedied and another asset of great magnitude added to the resources of this section. A message was received today that another vein of coal had been discovered on the Grand Ronde property. The new vein is located on what is known as the Hansen place, some two and a half miles distant from the present tunnel of the company. The discovery of this vein proves beyond question that the land in that section is underlain with coal seams and will in some measure hasten the plans of the company in opening up their mines for shipping purposes.—Clarkston Republican.

What Joy They Bring

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

PENDLETON MARBLE WORKS.

Some of the Finest Specimens of Marble Work in the West Is Produced in This City.

Pendleton Marble Works, situated on East Court street, turns out some of the finest finished marble work of any establishment in the west and is constantly filling large orders from outside of Umatilla county as well as within the county.

This well known institution is owned by H. Wray, who is assisted by F. H. Preher, both of whom are expert marble workers. Mr. Preher is consul commander of Pendleton Camp, Woodmen of the World, and has been employed by Mr. Wray for the past three years without losing a day.

Aside from having a large trade with the fraternal orders, this company carries on one of the largest general trades of any marble works in the inland Empire, and has given Pendleton some valuable advertising through its fine marble monuments sent to different parts of the country.

Some of the most beautiful and impressive designs in headstones and monuments to be seen in any marble rooms in the United States are found in the designs executed by the Pendleton Marble Works.

Nothing but the highest grade marble is used and only the finest workmanship is turned out and satisfaction is guaranteed in every instance. The large number of outside orders filled by this company is one of the highest possible recommendations for its work, as it fills orders from Washington, eastern Oregon and parts of Idaho, and is constantly increasing its facilities for meeting its custom.

When in Pendleton you are cordially invited to visit this place and inspect the elegant specimens of work whether you expect to make purchase or not. The public is always welcome.

Boy's Foot Was Crushed.

Lee Foster, the 11-year-old son of Thomas Foster, while playing with two other lads in the railroad yards this evening, had his left foot badly crushed at the turntable. The other lads ran away frightened and the Foster boy crept away about 50 feet when he fainted from pain as he was crossing a nearby track. He was found there by the night watchman a few moments later while the switch engine was backing down toward him. Two of the larger toes were amputated.—Boise Capital News.

New Barn for Asylum.

The new barn for the north Idaho asylum has been completed and filed with the livestock committee of the institution. The structure is 30x70 feet and is most substantially constructed. Excellent spring water supplied by the gravity system has been placed in the driveway and all conveniences for caring for the stock have been installed.—Orofino Optimist.

Purity in Laundry Work
